Shanna Webb with Congressman Jack Hightower in Washington.

DC politics for local lass

By BEVERLY MCCARLEY

When Shanna Webb went to Washington to work as congressional intern for Jack Hightower, little did she know that among her many contacts she would find the "kiss & tell" Elizabeth Rae, whom she was introduced to once.

More important than her personal acquaintances was the work and experience gained in a two month political excursion. Shanna worked in the United States Capitol city with and for Texas Congressman Hightower during the months of June and July.

Her life of secretarial duties for the congressman were well rounded with social activities. "There are lots of things to do in D.C. Those people go all night — strong," according to the young politician.

The most exciting activity Shanna witnessed was the Bicentennial Fourth of July celebration. "It was the biggest fire works display in D.C., and there were more than a million people there," said Shanna.

Other social activities for the young intern included concerts by such artists as Peter Frampton. Dinner theaters and local night spots kept Shanna busy.

"You don't go anywhere by yourself in Washington D.C.," according to Miss Webb.

In the city, Shanna was well looked after by fellow intern David Hazelwood, of Amarillo. She said that there was a group of young people who shared their leisure time together.

On weekends, Shanna and other young people spent much time on the water at Ocean Beach in Virginia.

"You never really think about pollution until you see it," according to Shanna. "There is a lot of pollution in large cities like the capitol."

Shanna spent part of her stay in a dorm at George Washington University and then in an apartment with a friend.

Shanna said that she was introduced to several interesting persons in the political world. Jimmy Carter was one of the most notable dignitaries she met. She also became acquainted with several senators.

Shanna, along with all the Texas constituents in Washington was invited to visit the White House by President Ford. A scheduled party had to be cancelled because of the nearness of Ford's campaign.

Shanna will be attending West Texas State University this fall as a sophomore. She is transferring here from Texas Tech. Her goal is to finish her degree in special education and eventually work for Health, Education, and Welfare in the Education department.

Miss Webb is currently working as secretary for Congressman Hightower in Amarillo. Starting in September she will be campaign assistant for the Demo leader.

She will be helping to set up the Democratic headquarters at the Bank of the Southwest at the first of the month.

Shanna is the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb of 17 Dellwood Drive in Canyon.

Canyon, with 16 other Panhandle cities, mapped strategy this week to contest Pioneer Natural Gas Company at a hearing Sept. 14 before the Railroad Commission.

Dr. J. Pat Stephens, political science professor at WTSU and a city commissioner, represented Canyon at a steering committee meeting Monday in Lubbock of the West Texas Utility Committee.

"This is not a rate hearing," Stephens said, of the upcoming hearing. "I have the feeling they'll come back in six months or so and ask for a rate increase. We're going to be ready for them."

To get ready, the steering committee Monday agreed that the Panhandle cities would "take certain actions," and would file these with the Railroad Commission at least 10 days before the hearing.

They would not disclose these actions before hand, Stephens said, to avoid alerting Pioneer.

The hearing in September, called for by Pioneer, is to ascertain the correctness of Pioneer gas purchase policies and to justify the 100 percent cost of gas pass through that Pioneer is now allowed to charge.

Stephens said they inspected 120 gas purchase contracts, some for throughout the past 20 years and many negotiated since the energy crisis of 1973.

"I have the feeling that we saw less than 10 percent of Pioneer's gas purchase contracts," Stephens said.

The cities will contest approval of Pioneer's purchasing policies based on only a percentage of contracts examined, Stephens said.

Bill McMorris, representing Perryton, Hereford, Brownfield, Spearman, Tulia, Canyon, Vernon, Bryan, Palestine, Quanah, Seymour, Borger, Childress, Electra, Burkburnett, Floydada, and Littlefield, filed a statement Aug. 2 on cost of gas pass through.

"First I wish to speak to the issue as to whether automatic flow through of gas cost should be continued. It is my opinion that the use of automatic flow through or PGA clauses should be terminated except in special circumstances," McMorris said.

The PGA clause combined with the energy crisis and the Loc Lo-Vaca situation caused the price explosion of natural gas in the mid-70s, McMorris said.

He disapproved of the automatic pass through because:

—It removes all or at least much of the incentive to purchase gas at its lowest price.

—There is a conflict of interest between the utility and its customers and the utility and its subsidiaries that provide the gas.

—It must appear to the customer of natural gas, after watching helplessly the spiraling costs of this product that this company or no company is overly concerned for him. The higher the gas costs, the higher their profits seem to be.

—The court held in one case, "that a public utility must be regulated lest it overcharge the public." Even a part of the regulatory's duties should not be given up automatically. Cost of gas pass through are increased without any hearing before any regulatory body, McMorris said.

McMorris stated in nine pages, that before any kind of rate increase should be approved, a public hearing should be called at which the utility would have to justify the request.

A maximum of 65 percent of the cost of gas should be allowed and no automatic increases should be granted.

In addition to serving on the West Texas Utility Commission, Stephens has been named recently to serve on a public advisory committee of the Texas Municipal League.

They will meet for the first time Monday and are expected to take up a rate increase request by Bell Telephone.

Pesky laws hogtie commissioners court

The county commissioners are having trouble with the law again.

Already under investigation by the Randall County grand jury for a possible violation of the open meetings law, the court Monday heard they might be violating another law if they amended the present budget.

But if they don't amend the budget, they will have to violate a third law to pay any bills not already included in the budget.

The problem surfaced at the commissioner's meeting after Carroll Wilson, assistant to the court, and Bill Tiley, county auditor, presented proposed amendments to the budget.

Wilson and Tiley had earlier gone over the present county budget to track down expenditures that have actually been made to get an accurate reflection of the county's financial position.

They also included in the amendments expenses that were not originally budgeted for.

These include Wilson's salary, the assistant county auditor's salary, the investigator for the district attorney's office, and the increase in Tiley's salary.

Tiley explained that if the budget is not amended, none of those salaries could be paid.

But before the commissioners could act on the amendments, District Attorney Randall Sherrod told them that the budget can only be amended legally if the changes reflect an urgent public danger that could not have been reasonably foreseen when the original budget was approved.

If they went ahead with the amendments, Sherrod said, some citizens might argue that the changes were not urgent.

"There have been so many things since I've been on the court that are illegal," Commissioner Dee Griffin remarked.

Sherrod said that even though the budget may have been handled illegally in the past, "We've got to do it right now."

Earlier in the meeting, in another issue, former district judge Don Dean observed "Gentlemen, at some point we've got to start following the laws of the State of Texas."

Dean was attempting to negotiate a bond between the court and Canyon developer A.W. Lair.

In a dispute over road standards that has lasted over a year, Lair is attempting to get a plat approved for a development of estate-type homes just north of the city limits.

To get approval, Lair must improve his hard-surface road through the planned development. The dispute has been over the quality of the road and the steps needed to bring the road up to county standards.

Monday, engineer Bill McMorris listed five steps to be taken and Dean agreed to meet them all within two years and to post a performance bond.

The commissioners balked at a two year timetable and the amount of the proposed bond. They finally suggested that the bond equal the present cost of road construction and possibly the future costs as well. They mentioned $40,000.

"Fellows, you're not entitled to that much," Dean said. The law governing the situation sets the bond amount at $3 a linear foot, Dean said.

"You're not thinking about a

$3 a foot bond, are you?" Commissioner John Fulgenzi said.

"That's in the statute," Dean replied.

"This whole thing has not been done according to the statute so why start now with the bond," said Commissioner Jim Fletcher.

"It's what we can work out around this table."

As Dean answered that they needed to follow the law at some point, Sherrod was quickly summoned back into the courtroom.

"Mr. Sherrod," County Judge Woody Pond said, "What we're talking about, are we legal?"

"I wouldn't even venture to guess," Sherrod said.

The commissioners delayed any decision on approval of the plat or amendment of the budget for a special meeting Friday at 10 a.m.

Poor crops most likely

Prospects for dryland row crop was poor at mid-week, according to Paul Sammons, assistant county agent.

Sammons said moisture is badly needed. Even grassland is suffering and cattlemen are finding it necessary to put cattle on feed in the summer which is an unexpected expense.

Some farmers are expected to go ahead and put wheat into the ground hoping for rains to bring it up. Irrigation farmers will find it necessary to pre-plant irrigate, Sammons reported.

"We sure need rain," Sammons declared. Randall county farmers are apt to agree with him.

MOVING IN — Karen Brewer, Plainview freshman, is settling into her new residence at Brown Hall.

ROTC recruits to save itself

In hot water with the Army already, WTSU's military science department is looking for recruits this fall.

ROTC is sponsoring a cookout at the university tonight with displays, rappelling and a Cobra helicopter gunship, for entertainment.

Coffee and doughnuts will be offered in the ROTC building lounge during registration Friday and Saturday.

WT's military science program was put on probation by the Department of the Army last March, along with five other programs in this area, for not having enough level three students.

Last year, there were only 12 junior ROTC students enrolled. The minimum enrollment set by the Army for juniors is 20 students, LTC Charles Laakso, professor of military science said.

This year, counting students who took a condensed version of MS I and II courses, those who completed a six week basic camp at Ft. Knox and returning veterans, the faculty is hoping for about 24 juniors. Twenty juniors have completed enough paperwork for the department to be sure of their enrollment, LTC Laakso said.

Assuming the minimum student count is met, it is expected that WTSU will be removed from probation. Brig. Gen. Jerry Childress, commander of the Third Army ROTC Region at Ft. Riley, recommended last spring not to put WT on probation, LTC Laakso said.

Since the elimination of the draft, ROTC numbers have been dropping steadily. Last year, only 76 persons were enrolled in the WT program.

This year, LTC Laakso is guessing as many as 110 may enroll. Until registration tomorrow, he cannot be sure of numbers but already 43 freshmen have pre-registered.

New jobs, no payday

Recent county employees who hold newly-created positions could be by-passed on payday if the present budget is not amended.

But the law requires that amendments must be an urgent public necessity that could not have been reasonably foreseen when the original budget is approved.

And the law also prohibits any payments not included in the budget.

Carroll Wilson, newly hired to an unprecedented position, as administrative assistant, proposed several amendments to the present budget to reflect payments that had previously been unspecified and therefore illegal.

Besides salaries, the amendments included payment to the ambulance service, and Kids, Inc. funds.

But as soon as Wilson proposed (See PAY, Page 7)

Fire trap is cited

There is virtually no protection from fire for the courthouse and all of the irreparable records stored there, county commissioners were reminded Monday.

Only two fire extinguishers are located in the courthouse and these were last inspected in 1971, administrative assistant Carroll Wilson told the court.

Wilson suggested, and commissioners agreed, to ask for a fire inspection from fire marshal Jerry Lehnick.

A fire in the courthouse would ruin county records, Wilson and County clerk Leroy Hutton said. While some of the records are stored on microfilm, the indices are handwritten, Hutton said. Water would ruin the records as surely as fire, they said.

Title 9 creates no problems

The passage of Title 9 has caused no drastic changes in the Canyon school system since its full enforcement, according to John Sommer, high school principal.

Sommer says that the recent abolishment of the student dress code was very much needed. "The students are more relaxed and do not feel like they have to hide from faculty members because of their attire."

Following a self evaluation by the Canyon School Board and interpretation of the law by the Health Education and Welfare, Sommer feels that Canyon is directly in compliance with the Title 9 specifications—except for co-educational physical education classes.

Due to the present gym and dressing room facilities, Sommer says that it is not possible to combine men's and women's athletic activities. "After the new gym and dressing areas are completed, we will be in strict accordance with Title 9," according to Sommer.

What seemingly should be the hardest hit area by the new anti-discrimination law is in vocational education. According to Dr. Ken Hart, vocational director at CHS, the title has not had much effect on the department.

Dr. Hart says that they have never discouraged students of one sex from enrolling in courses more geared to the opposite sex. Women are welcome into auto mechanics and building trades just as men are accepted in homemaking.

He says that few students venture into courses that have been basically set up for students of the other sex, but this is not because they are discouraged from doing so. "It is because of lack of interest in those particular courses," according to Hart.

According to Principal John Sommer, the only negative aspect of Title 9 is that "if a girl wants to wear a beard, she can't."

New counselor states goal

"I would like to make this the best high school counseling and guidance program there is," says Kenneth Ringo, new counselor for the Canyon High School.

Ringo comes to Canyon from Dimmitt where he was guidance counselor for seven years. He previously served in the Levelland school system for a semester.

The new faculty member is a 1954 graduate of West Texas State University. He played football for the buffalo squad and coached football for ten years prior to assuming his counseling career.

He received his master's degree from Texas Tech in counseling and guidance.

Ringo moved to Canyon a year ago with his wife Ruth. His son Kenneth is a senior student at West Texas State University. He has two daughters residing in Dimmitt.

County commission covers long agenda

Decisions on the Canyon North plat, the ambulance contract, funding Kids, Inc. and amending the present county budget were put off until a special meeting Friday as county commissioners worked through a long agenda Monday.

As routine business, the court voted to require First National Bank to retain $1.1 million for county deposits, approved a plat for unit seven of Timbercreek, decided not to maintain development roads not dedicated to the public, approved three used pickups from Army salvage at Ft. Bliss, approved a draft of a letter to Panhandle Engineers and Contractors demanding repair under the warranty for the courthouse annex.

They investigated appointing one person to be purchasing agent and gave administrative assistant Carroll Wilson the go-ahead to draw up a clearcut policy for centralized purchasing.

They also considered changing the county hospitalization insurance but voted to retain the present policy.

Rates will go up Sept. 1 for hospitalization for employees and their dependents. Scheduled hikes include a 19 percent raise for the county's part and a 17 percent increase by employees for dependents.

Wilson investigated switching to a $100 deductible policy but found little savings in that plan, he told the court.

He also suggested the county could ask for bids, but commissioners turned that down because they had taken bids last year.

They put off again a decision to increase the fund or to fund at all, Kids, Inc.

The recreation program serves both Potter and Randall County youngsters. Randall County has been contributing $2,200 to Kids, Inc. while Potter County contributes $7,500. The director of Kids, Inc. asked recently for an increase in Randall County funding.

The request brought the legality of the present funding into question. Assistant District Attorney Rick Wilcox researched the issue and decided that the county could legally pay a private group if the court contracted with the group to provide county recreation services.

Wilson recommended not to fund Kids, Inc., saying it was "a keg of worms."

Every recreation group in the county would be asking Kids, Inc. for money and Kids, Inc. would be relaying the requests to the commissioners, Wilson warned.

The commissioners tabled the request.

Keith Horton addressed the court, warning about pollution of the acquifer by improper septic tanks. Commissioners directed Wilson to confer with Horton and make recommendations to the court.

The ambulance contract was put off until Friday so Metropolitan Ambulance Service managers can review the contract.

The commissioners agreed to a fire inspection by county fire marshal Jerry Lehnich and put off until Friday consideration of a proposed amendment to the budget.

Former district court judge Don Dean tried again to get a plat approved for A.W. Lair's estate-type development just outside the city limits.

Called Canyon North, the project has been stalled about a year while Lair seeks city and county approval of the plat. Approval hinges on the quality of the hard surface road.

Monday Dean agreed for Lair to meet immediately two specifications of the independent engineering evaluation and to perform the other requirements in two years when more traffic has used the road.

Commissioners balked on the two year timetable and disputed the amount of a bond to be required.

The commissioners and Dean agreed to meet again Friday at 10 a.m.

A meeting of the Canyon, Randall, Amarillo and Potter County (CRAP) governments was announced for Wednesday at noon. Items to be included by the commissioners on the agenda concerned radio purchase for the county fire department.

They delayed a request for two walkie-talkies for the fire department until they could investigate further.

Robert F. Green of Amarillo was appointed as the Mental Health Mental Retardation board of trustees.

Judy Beth Monk was appointed assistant county auditor with an annual salary set at $8,400. She was appointed by district court judges Bryan Poff and George Dowlen and ratified by the county court.

City, county, hospital district to study ambulance subsidies

If the city, county and hospital district pooled their money to match a grant for an ambulance, would it reduce the monthly subsidy to the ambulance service?

The three entities will explore that question when they meet Monday with representatives from Metropolitan Ambulance Service.

Metropolitan operates the ambulance service here after Canyon Ambulance Service went bankrupt last spring.

Before the firm went bankrupt, Canyon had applied through the emergency medical service program at Panhandle Regional Planning Commission for a grant to purchase an ambulance.

The grant, probably a 60-40 one with local governments paying the smaller share, might be approved if the three entities decide to go ahead, city manager Glen Metcalf said.

Questions they will explore tomorrow with ambulance managers will center around a reduction of the monthly $1,140.67 subsidy each or a guarantee that the subsidy won't be increased, Metcalf said.

Cost to each entity for a new ambulance will amount to about $2,500.

Kids, Inc. beginning here

Sign-ups for Kids, Inc. contact and flag football as well as cheerleading were taken last Saturday with a good number of Canyon youngsters now on the roster.

Terry Clark, round-up manager for Kids, Inc. in Canyon, reports that some teams are already practicing after school in preparation for games to begin in mid-September.

Clark also expressed special appreciation to County Judge Woody Pond for giving time and effort to the project and recognized monetary donations from local businessmen amounting to $330.

Businesses recognized for their contributions to Kids, Inc. were the Davis Agency, Cooper's Thriftway, Larry Hooper Agency, Schooler-Gordon Inc. of Canyon, Mike Morris Insurance, Canyon News, Willis E. Harrison D. D. S., Medical and Dental Clinic, Sternberg Lumber, Johnston Trustworthy Hardware, Village Drive Inn, Shell's Pharmacy, Musser Welding, West Texas State Bank and Irwin Greenhouse.

At the Kids, Inc. sign-ups on Saturday over 100 students were signed for contact football in the 4th through 6th grades with an additional 65 boys and girls signed up to play flag football.

Some 30 girls were also signing up to participate on the cheerleading squads.

In contact football 40 youths were signed up at the sixth grade level, 35 at the fifth grade level and 30 at the 4th grade level.

Flag football, which is for first through third grades, is expected to field five 9-man teams from the 65 students signing up. The league is open to both boys and girls and additional sign-ups will be taken through September 1 by contacting Frank Landram, 655-3127.

The cheerleading squad consists of 30 girls following the sign-up time last Saturday and is presently in need of an additional fourth grade mother to serve as a sponsor.

Sign-ups for either contact football or the cheerleading squad and volunteer adults may contact Clark at 655-2200 previous to September 1.

Bond sales here

Sales for the six month period totaled $118,813 for 48% of the 1976 sales goal of $250,000.

June sales here amounted to $19,172.

Dorms near capacity

West Texas State University dorms are nearing capacity with a total of 2,014 reservations so far this semester. According to Housing Director Carolyn Hunt, dorms on the campus will house 2,109 students, including private rooms.

Saundra Meek, Associate Dean of Women said that approximately 30 women students are currently being housed in the men's section of Stafford Hall, temporarily. These coeds will be placed in women's dorms after all room cancellations are posted.

Last fall the former all male dorm, Stafford Hall was converted to house freshman women in the south wing. According to Miss Meek there has not been a substantial increase in freshman female student enrollment.

Miss Meek attributes the female overflow to lack of off-campus housing. Another cause is last semester's utility rate hike. According to the dean, students have found that dorm life is relatively more reasonable now.

According to Carolyn Hunt, reservations are still being accepted for dorm rooms in both men's and women's halls.

Miss Meek said that last semester there were between 40 and 60 female students who did not show up for their dorm rooms. Thus, the housing situation is expected to improve before Monday.

"We will find room for all coed applicants," according to Miss Meek. No reservation applications are being refused.

Weldon Trice, Assistant Dean

for Men says that there is still ample space in men's dorms. There are presently about 60 unfilled spaces in campus housing for males.

"By the time school starts, we will probably have between 80 and 100 vacancies," according to Trice. This will include rooms in Stafford Hall that coed students will vacate.

There is actual living space to accommodate 2,400 students on the WTSU campus. This figure includes available room for more than one student in private rooms.

Art, music profs added to university

West Texas State University's first full-time commercial art instructor and two music professors will join the faculty of the WTSU School of Fine Arts this fall.

Margie Jo Adkins, former instructor at Texas Christian University and national advertising designer for Radio Shack, will be an assistant instructor in commercial art.

Ms. Adkins is a candidate for a master's of fine arts degree in advertising design from North Texas State University. She has also held staff artist positions with Albert Evans and Associates, Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., and Jack T. Holmes and Associate.

Allen Dean Palmer, former instructor at Los Angeles Southwest College, will teach music history and literature at

West Texas State. Palmer received a certificate in trumpet from the Naval School of Music in Norfolk, Va., and was a teaching fellow at the University of California at Los Angeles before coming to Canyon.

Amarillo native Lynn Ronald Lemon will instruct classes in brass instruments and French horn. After earning his bachelor and master's degrees from Texas Tech University, Lemon became assistant professor of music at Emporia Kansas State College. He has also taught at Southeastern Louisiana College, Loyola University, Lemon became assistant professor of music at Emporia Kansas State College. Four join staff

Four professors will join the West Texas State University School of Business faculty this fall.

Dr. Leonard Bacon, former associate professor at Delta State University, is the new faculty member in the Accounting Department. Bacon received his undergraduate degree from the University of Omaha, his master of business administration from the University of the Americas and his doctorate from the University of Mississippi.

The certified public accountant is a member of the American Institute of CPA's, the Mississippi Society of CPA's, the American Association of Spanish-Speaking CPA's and the American Accounting Association.

Dr. Billy Kenneth Walker and Harry Paul Haiduk will teach in the Computer Information Systems Department. Both received their bachelor's degrees from West Texas State.

Walker earned his master's and doctoral degrees from Texas Tech University, where he was a part-time instructor. He taught in the Amarillo Independent School District before coming to the University.

Haiduk, who earned his master's degree at WTSU, was an assistant professor of computer information systems at Drake University. He was the first recipient of the T. Earnest Gammage, Sr. Memorial Fellowship for Insurance Study for 1970-71, and was awarded the S. S. Huebner Foundation Fellowship for Insurance Education at the University of Pennsylvania for 1967-68.

William Mark Womble will be added to the Business Administration Department instructional staff.

Womble earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from West Texas State, where he has been a teaching and research assistant.

Womble has been an internal auditor and an assistant budget analyst for the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas, and an instructor of accounting at El Centro Junior College and the American Institute of Banking.

Happy news

Barbecue feeds folks

By MARY NEAL HENRY
ABOUT 1500 WERE served during the barbecue at Happy Days. Two hundred of this number were "old-timers," the group that really get the most enjoyment out of Happy Days.
A plaque was presented Hollis Shipman and the Shipman family, in memory of Inez Shipman, to whom Happy Days was dedicated this year. Inez was one who gave advice and lent a helping hand to that first Happy Days when it was first revived. At that time, she owned and operated a cafe in Happy and she ordered supplies and lent utensils, etc. She donated much time and effort. Happy Jaycees dedicated this year's celebration to her memory and presented the Shipman family a plaque during the awards just after noon on Saturday.

The Women's Study Club of

Happy won first place in the parade floats for civic groups. Happy Cow-Belles won second and Happy Jaycee-Ettes won third with their Miss, Junior Miss and Little Miss Happy floats.
Harman-Toles won first in the commercial division of the parade floats. The Big Texan won second with their huge steer.

First in Riding clubs was the Los Charros riding club with their fancy suits and tack. Randall County Riding Club won second and we appreciate their coming to Happy to ride.
Elzo Guest, 96 years young, was the oldest old-timer present. White Currie had lived in the area the longest, since 1890. Bill and Ruth Odom traveled the most miles to Happy Days. They traveled over 1800 miles to get here from Fort Bragg, Calif.

Terry Wright won the most colorful category of the beard contest. Vincent Venhaus won the unique title. Bill Caudle, one of the Amarillo gunfighters, won the plaque for the ugliest beard.
The Horseshoe Pitching was won by Hobie McManigal in the singles division with Larry Simons winning second. The doubles was won by Bob Hargrave and Robert Lee. Raphe and Gene Shipman won second.
Happy's Heavy Heavers won the tug-of-war game. This team is Gene Shipman, Terry Wright, Don Lee, Jim Schrib, Dean Bryan, Lloyd Rahlfs, Mark Hargrave and Jim Hand.

The "87" cafe and the Amarillo Gunfighters also had teams.
John B. Gill of the Fire Fox Corporation of Houston demonstrated the "Jaws of Life." Happy Volunteer Firemen sponsored the demonstration and hope to purchase one of these life saving tools for our area. The electronic tool weighed approximately 65 pounds and cost $5,000. It was run by a portable motor which set on the ground. It would open car doors, raise steering columns off anyone who may be trapped in a vehicle, open the doors in a matter of seconds, even cut the whole top off a car in such few minutes (maybe seconds). People stood amazed. Happy Volunteer Firemen are taking donations to buy this new equipment for our area.

John Butler won the red, white and blue quilt raffled by the senior citizens. Joyce Lane won the quilt made by the Sunnyhill Home Demonstration Club.
Sharon McCarley won the $100 gift certificate at the new J Bar C Western Store in Happy that Happy Jaycee-Ettes sold chances on.

HAPPY ARTISTS CLUB had a busy day with their Art Show and Flea Market. Many type booths were featured during the day.
First State Bank Purchase Award went to Mary Moudy for "The Clown." The school award went to Zelma Selvidge for "After the Storm."

Best of show and $75 went to Edna Foster. Bob Hargrave won second and $50 with his "He Killed My Double Six." Gene Reagor won third and $25 with "Follow Me."
In the oil division, Zelma Selvidge won first with "Breakfast Delight." Ellen McCoy of Amarillo won second with "Neighboring," and Katherine Stephens of Tulia won third with "The Fiddler and His Day."
In water colors, Ollie Nichols won first with "The Winter Tree." Edna Foster won second and Mary Womack won third with "Green Shadows." Gaytha Fellers won honorable mention with "Forest Fireworks." Sharon Nichols of Tulia won (See HAPPY, Page 5)

HERBERT GAINES FROM
New Kirk, N.M., attended Happy Days this year. His dad, J. Sam Gaines, ran the wagon yard in Tulia when my mother and her family, the C. E. Pairs, first came to Swisher County in 1917. They moved on to Happy in 1918.

Mother recalls that they just struck out across the prairie because there were no fences. Mother also recalls that she walked most of the way and led the old milk cow. They had a good reunion.

ed the amendments to the commissioners court Monday, District Attorney Randall Sherrod read another statute that restricted amending the budget to urgent necessity.

Sherrod pointed out that some citizens may not consider providing salaries for new positions as a public necessity. If he received complaints, Sherrod said he would be forced to check it out and possibly refer it to the grand jury.

Wilson rejoined that payment was certainly a private necessity.

"There's no doubt in my mind that if the budget is not amended, that Bill Tiley, (county auditor) can't pay me," Wilson told the court.

"And if we don't amend the budget now, we're just as illegal under other acts," he went on.

Commissioners, dismayed at meeting head-on legal requirements, were told by Sherrod that he didn't think it would be any harder to comply with the law.

"It's just a different way in how it's been done," he said. "It isn't going to be any harder."

The commissioners postponed any further action for a special meeting Friday.

Later, County Judge Woody Pond said Wilson would be paid.

"We have a special meeting Friday, Aug. 27 at 10 a.m. and I expect you'll see then what we're going to do."

Besides Wilson's, endangered salaries include the D.A.'s investigator, and the new assistant auditor.

part of their authority for land in their extra-territorial jurisdiction.

Monday, Lair's attorney, former district court judge Don Dean, made his second trip to commissioner's court, with Lair's engineer, Bill Thompson, and the county's engineer, Bill McMorries.

McMorries listed five steps to be taken to bring the road up to county standards:

—Complete drainage ditches and structures according to the plan.

—Proof-roll existing paving with a gross load of a minimum of 25 tons to show unstable or soft areas, and redo paving in those areas.

—Remove weeds and patch paving.

—Correct crown in paving as much as practical.

—Lay two courses of full strength asphalt to bring the total asphalt thickness to a minimum of four inches.

Dean said Lair would comply immediately with the drainage requirements and weed control and within two years, would finish the other requirements.

During the two years, Dean said, the area would be developed and traffic would help compact the road.

Commissioners didn't agree with the timetable. Paul Lindsey said he would be willing to extend the completion time until next year only because it was so late in the road building season. Cut-off date for laying roads is October.

"We want the plat approved," Dean said. "The man under reasonable conditions deserves to have his plat approved."

"We did not create the problems and now we're trying to accommodate him," Commissioner John Fulgenzi said. "But every time we turn around, we have to have a new accommodation."

"We'll put up a bond and you're under no hazard of maintenance during the two year test period after the road is finished," Dean said.

The bond was also haggled over. Dean pointed out that the statute established a performance bond at $3 a linear foot.

The commissioners wanted a much larger bond. Fulgenzi said he thought the bond should not only meet present costs of road construction but should anticipate future costs.

Somewhere around $40,000 was agreeable with the commissioners for the approximate mile of road. The only decision agreed upon by Dean and the commissioners was to meet again Friday at 10 a.m. Commissioners expressed hope that the plat could be approved at that time.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon for Mrs. J. J. (Myrtle Lock) Walker, former Canyon resident, who died Saturday in the Hall County Hospital at Memphis.

Born in Hays County, Texas, Mrs. Walker and her husband, Jesse James Walker, were wed June 3, 1915 at Memphis. They operated a drugstore in Memphis previous to moving to Canyon in 1923 where they resided at 518 19th Street.

The Walkers operated the drug store, now known as Byrd Pharmacy, for 40 years until Mr. Walker retired in 1959. He died in 1967 and Mrs. Walker remained here until 1971 when she moved to Memphis. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church and Canyon City Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday at the First United Methodist Church of Canyon with Rev. Hubert Thomson, retired Methodist minister, officiating. Local arrangements were handled by Scholer-Gordon Funeral Directors and interment was conducted at Dreamland Cemetery.

Serving as pallbearers were Wilford Taylor, Jr., Ples Harper, A. L. Crossland, Willard Middleton, W. W. Sternberg and Robert Ezzel.

Survivors include nieces: Mrs. H. R. (Joann) Crawford of Memphis, Mrs. Velma Kiene of Amarillo, Mrs. Geraldine Horton of Dalhart and Mrs. William J. Clifford of Sheridan, Wyoming; and nephews, H. B. (Benzy) Estes of Houston and Oscar Lock of Lawton, Oklahoma.

The group will also begin macramé as one of their projects on September 7. The class, Monday through Friday, will be from 10 a.m. until noon with Delpha Downing as instructor.

A two day course on defensive driving will be offered September 20-21. Both days will have sessions from 10 until noon and from 1-3 p.m.

For further information about any of the Senior Citizen Courses and activities contact the office at 655-3331.

Sharon Lowe, new office assistant with Canyon Senior Citizens Association, goes over new programs expected to be founded here soon. Participating in the discussion is Marie Bonifield, RSVP project director for the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation.

RSVP wants volunteers

Marie Bonifield is the new project director for the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) which serves a four county area including Potter, Randall, Carson and Armstrong Counties of the Texas Panhandle.

She stressed the fact that a lot of "retirees are moving to the Texas Panhandle" and need to have a use for their talents.

The RSVP program encourages volunteer services in the community by the retired and the project also documents the volunteer hours they provide to their communities.

Established under a federal grant, the RSVP program is eligible for continued funds on a matching basis with participating counties required to raise cash and/or document voluntary service. "This documentation of volunteer services, she noted, does not include the volunteer hours spent by the RSVP participants themselves — but is a count of other volunteer hours given to the program."

As RSVP project director, Mrs. Bonifield noted that local Senior Citizens spent 6,864 volunteer hours in remodeling the building there, spend many hours as volunteer drivers for the Meals On Wheels program, serve as museum volunteers with the hospital auxiliary and provide transportation to those in need.

For further information about the program contact Mrs. Bonifield at the local Senior Citizens Building, 655-3331, or the RSVP office at 373-8389.

Miss Canyon '76 placed as fourth runnerup for the title of Miss Wheelchair of the Nation at a beauty pageant held Saturday night in Perryton.

The petite lass was also selected as 'Miss Congeniality' at the beauty pageant where she was the youngest participant. She was the only high school age lass placing in the top five of the contest.

Miss Cindy Brooks, a junior student at Canyon High School this fall, was selected to serve as Miss Canyon '76 in a local beauty pageant last spring.

She is the daughter of Sandra and Don McRoberts of 1207 Brookhaven and represents the city in various capacities throughout the years. She was recently selected as the second runnerup at Pampa in the Miss Top of Texas Pageant. Her activities are co-sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and Canyon Study Club.

Two re-elected

Two Canyon residents have been re-elected to three year terms as directors of the Federal Land Bank Association of Amarillo. Albert Byars and Victor P. Hill will serve as directors of the association.

Clifford Stevens of Happy and Frank Begert of Umparger were also re-elected to fill the posts of vice president and director, respectively.

J. T. Henry split first in the bull riding and won second in the bareback riding. Eddie Joe Pearson won fifth in calf roping. Happy won the team trophy. Congratulations!

KEN HENRY RECENTLY won the bull riding at the PRC rodeo in Davenport, Iowa and split fourth and fifth in Sidney.

STEPHANIE AND ANDREA Vise of Canyon spent a week recently in Happy with their grandparents, the Forest Vises. Ruby picked up Elana at the end of the visit and took all three girls to the circus and to see the new show, UFO, at the Discovery Center.

CONGRATULATIONS TO BILL Tiley, recently named County Auditor of Randall County. Bill is a native of Happy.

Bill and his wife, Georgine and their two sons, have just finished remodeling their house in Canyon by adding a second story.

Georgine, a native of Gainesville, is a Past Grand Worthy Advisor of the Grand Assembly of Texas, Order of the Rainbow for Girls and is active in the Canyon City Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

CONGRATULATIONS TO BOB Robinson, new County Agent of Randall County beginning Sept. 1. Bob, too, is a native of Happy. He and his wife Sharon, have been living in Amarillo where Bob served as an assistant agent.

Our best regards to John Brazzil. John has been a favorite of ours for many years. In his calm, confident manner, he accomplished his goals and set many youngsters on the right path.

John is one who really believes that you can do a lot of good in this world if you don't care who gets the credit. Well, I believe in giving credit where credit is due. Thank you, John, for all those years of service to your community.

Happy's newsy notes

JESSIE LANE is back in the Pavilion after being transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital for tests. Jessie suffered a very slight stroke and is improving very well.

Viola Buchanan remains seriously ill.

George Uesling remains on the critical list in Amarillo.

CORRIN, SHAY AND JOE Freeman, children of Norman and Joy Freeman, have Indian corn for sale at a quarter an ear.

The Freemans live one and a half miles south and then one and a half miles east of Happy (all on pavement). They are listed in the Gurley telephone listings.

OUR FRIEND, BARBARA Northern, who attends high school in Amarillo, had her sore mare stolen on Wednesday night or very early Thursday morning, Aug. 19 from the Will Rogers Range Riders stalls.

The mare is a registered nine-year-old and is named Miss La Rey. She stands 15.2 hands high and weighs approximately 1100 pounds. The only white on her is on her face. She has a star, a stripe and a snip. She has a vertical scar about five inches long on her left hip that looks rather like the number "1" as she travels away from you. Miss La Rey also has a scar just above the right back hoof (on the pastern) and one on the inside of the left front ankle. Right now she has a scab on the right side which is a scratch but resembles a saddle sore.

This mare gets nervous when you ride her into the box. She also has a habit of flopping her bottom lip when she is nervous or excited. This trait alone will make her easily identified. So watch for her. If you think you see her, call the authorities or notify Barbara Northern at 806-355-0785.

Although Barbara's mare was the only horse taken at the time, a red and white, Milley, two horse trailer with black or dark grey glass in the front was stolen from the Range Riders area also. The two might possibly be together.

ANGELIQUE HENRY

AND Kaye Stubblefield went to Wonderland Park recently as guests of the park. Because of Angelique's leg injury, Mrs. Roads treated her and a friend to a free evening in the park and did they have fun!

I went through the "Fantastic Journey" with them and that ride is well named. Someone's imagination has been working overtime. I'd recommend that "journey" to all you out there — except those with very high blood pressure. It was a fun evening!

HAVE A GOOD DAY!

WHAT KIND OF A DISCOUNT?

Lately, the most used word of many advertisers seems to be "Discount." They give the impression that these firms are in business to sell things below their cost. Suddenly they have become philanthropists.

Of course, you know such selling is not continuously possible. Either the price on "blind" articles of their own or unknown makes is higher, or service is discounted to a minimum. We continue our policy of dependability, fair prices and every possible service to please you.

BY JO FULKERSON
ANOTHER WEEK, AN-
OTHER bunch of happenings here at the park.
 Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Rippetoe are new and proud parents of a baby born last Thursday. Both are doing fine now, and Linda and Ron have named the new boy Bedford Jay.
 My apologies if the name has been misspelled.

PAT AND TEX Reed report they were going to the Wheatheart Celebration in Pampa, Texas the weekend of the 21st. They have planned for so many times to go to this but job obligations prevented it in the past. They particularly wanted to see the tractor pull, but looked forward to the 5:30 a.m. breakfast, the parade and a noon barbecue.

They were to visit her sister and brother-in-law, Tommy L. Bradley, and nephews, Brian and Brent, while there.

GARY AND ANN Hudleston were recent visitors at the park, visiting Aunt Ruby and new Uncle George.

 Gary and family are from El Reno, Oklahoma, and were on their way to Albuquerque for a job interview with the Methodist Church there. Gary is now a director of music, choir and youth director. I know Ruby was glad to see them because she speaks very lovingly of them, and often.

M. J. AND LEE Lamkin had a weekend of visiting planned. First to Pampa to a Masonic Lodge Banquet and celebration; then on to McClellan to the Golden Spread Camp-out. A weekend of fellowship and good clean outdoor fun seemed inevitable for them.

YOUNG BRENT SHIPLEY described his visit to the Storybook Zoo last weekend to me one day. He visited Snow White's cottage to feed the deer, Billy Goat Gruff to feed the baby goats, and he saw the elephants, sheep and chickens.

Mother Sharon said he had a real good time and lots of giggles, but baby Brandi was just too small to wonder what was going on.

DEBBIE BROOKS SPENT the weekend in Muleshoe (in the garden, looks like) and brought home fun thoughts of the family and loads of fresh vegetables to put up this week. Lots of several kinds of squash, beans, and blackeyed peas and all were choice vegetables.

I WAS CLEANING out my sewing machine drawer the other day and came across a clipping yellow with age (don't ask me how often I clean this drawer out or why a clipping was tucked among the pins, needles and bits of lace and buttons), which I would like to repeat for you. It is called "God Sends the Thread", written by Alvena Hallett.

"The spider starts to spin its web without a thread in sight... But as it works, God sends the thread, to weave the dream so light."

Be not afraid, to start to weave. That dream you would achieve... trust in God, just go ahead... He knows your need. He'll send the thread."

NEWCOMERS AT SIESTA include "Jack" and Mary Frost at 150 Siesta Lane; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Curry and family at 236 Loma Linda; Jan Henson, 247 La Fiesta; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Potts and baby daughter, 223 La Fiesta; Mrs. Glenda Strey and her family at 230 La Fiesta; Jon Arent, 158 Siesta Lane.

Special welcome to Glen and Rachael Hosler, who now live at 126 Siesta Lane. The Hoslers moved from the Park several months ago, to our regret, and we are very pleased to have them return. Welcome newcomers.

THESE 60 DEGREE mornings are just wonderful, aren't they. Getting the first whiff of the morning breeze is like making the last payment on a car note — just makes you feel so good.

Call me with your news, and thanks in advance. 355-0601.

C.J. Roberts funeral today

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. today in First Baptist Church of Amarillo for Clifford Jeremiah Roberts, 70, who had worked with ASARCO for 45 years.

Ice cream fellowship planned for community

John Brazzil, Randall County's Extension Agent for Agriculture since 1948, will be honored Saturday evening, August 28, at a retirement party to be held for the community at Conner Park.

Brazzil will be retiring to private interests on August 31 and will be replaced on the County's Extension Staff by Bob Robinson, who has been serving with the Potter County Extension Service.

The ice cream supper feting Brazzil's retirement is being co-hosted by Forrest Gruner, R. B. Gist, Jr., Lee Moore, Don Dolle, Mr. and Mrs. Jones Hales, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turpin, and Mrs. Allen Winters.

WHEN DR. ROLAND Johnson and his wife, Wilma, were celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary by dining with friends at a seafood restaurant, Dr. Johnson found a small pearl in one of the oysters. The group remarked on the pearl and a waitress said she didn't think anyone else had ever found a pearl there.

Later, after the Johnsons returned home, they looked up their anniversary on a gift chart and discovered that the 30th anniversary is designated by a pearl.

IT HAS BEEN a summer of separate vacations for the Telfair family. First, due to some rash parental promises, Jackie Telfair and her father, Dan, went to New York for sightseeing, shopping and theater-going.

The next week, to make up for the missed New York trip, Michele Telfair and a friend, Kim Langford, went to Six Flags Over Texas. They were taxied there by Michele's mother, Laurie.

Last weekend, Laurie left Saturday evening for Salina, Kans., where she had a disastrous few minutes in the dog show ring and a terrific time visiting friends down for the show from Omaha and St. Louis. She returned to Canyon Sunday night.

A SMALL, PROBABLY ten-week-old, black, female puppy followed the News crew back from coffee break at the drug-store Tuesday. She was turned over to the animal warden to take to the pound at Dr. Markham's clinic for fear she would get run over by Square traffic. She was a fat puppy and is probably owned by someone nearby. If you've lost this pup, please get her at Dr. Markham's.

Quick column

By FARRIS ANN MORRISON

Another quickie column: SATURDAY THROUGH WEDNESDAY I will be in Ft. Worth with my almost sister, Linda McCasland. By the time you read this, I will already be back. Confusing, yes.

HAVE YOU VISITED school yet? All of the rooms look so lovely and inviting. Portia Tillinghast says at the end of every year, she can't let go, then each new class becomes her favorite. I don't believe there is a single teacher at Gene Howe who doesn't truly love children. Go up and get acquainted!

THE COMMUNITY EDUCATION program has been set up. Here are the classes which will be offered at Gene Howe: beginning Monday,

September 13, RUG MAKING — four weeks — 7-9 p.m. in the teacher's lounge — $5.00, WESTERN DANCING for Junior High and High School — six weeks — 7-9 p.m. in the cafeteria — $8.00, ADULT EDUCATION (GED) — 7-10 p.m. in the library — no fees. CROCHET begins Monday, October 11, for six weeks — 7-9 p.m. in the teacher's lounge — $8.00. Tuesdays will feature BASIC GENEALOGY — four weeks — 7-9 p.m. in the teacher's lounge — $5.00, WOMEN'S EXERCISE (a new and interesting technique) — eight weeks — 7-8:30 p.m. in the cafeteria — $8.00.

Both Tuesday classes will begin September 14. The forms are available at the school. Velta Hord, 353-4555, can handle pre-registration for classes. Class planning is easier if you can pre-register.

There will be a first-aid class given on one Saturday (place and time to be announced). The class is limited to twelve. If interested, please call the Community Education Office, 655-2168. Remember, this is a one day class.

CLARENCE AND VESTA Winters, grandparents of Ricky

and Mike Winters, returned recently from the Gindeabeger family reunion at Salt Plains Lake, Oklahoma. The thirty-two members got in a lot of visiting, some fishing, boating, swimming, and in general had a lovely time.

THOUGHTS AT RANDOM

Anita Harp's and Alicia Niemeier's smile, Portia Tillinghast's and Nancy Roth's eyes, Pam Layman's hair, Jerry Langen's serene face and Marion Marra's Kitten face, Ernestine Harp's new figure, Mr. Lawless' beautiful wardrobe, Margie Phillips' enthusiasm, Sarah Edwards' efficiency. There's lots more!

ONE ADVANTAGE to getting up at 7 a.m. (and there really is one) is the morning itself. This summer, I generally got up about 8 unless CAPTAIN KANGAROO was really outstanding and I could sleep til 9:00.

But now I've re-discovered "early" and I like it! It's cool, smells wonderful, and I can hear our quail calling.

The wind generally isn't blowing so it's a really great way to start the day. Have seven great days this week!

Family holds summer ending reunion

Women college returnees have info session

The West Texas State University Women's Advisor Office is sponsoring a coffee today for returning women students who want both information from and interaction with other mature women in college.

The informal coffee will begin at 10 a.m. in Room 104 of the WTSU Education Building.

"This meeting will give women the opportunity to discuss the problems of returning to college," said Dr. Enid Bates, WTSU women's advisor. "They will be able to get feedback from women who have done it."

Included in the special services available this fall to returning women students are study skills courses and aptitude and interest tests.

September 15, "Pot Luck and Politics" on Oct. 20 and "Who Wants Me and How Much Am I Worth" on Nov. 17.

City girds for gas fight

Canyon, with 16 other Panhandle cities, mapped strategy this week to contest Pioneer Natural Gas Company at a hearing Sept. 14 before the Railroad Commission.

Dr. J. Pat Stephens, political science professor at WTSU and a city commissioner, represented Canyon at a steering committee meeting Monday in Lubbock of the West Texas Utility Committee.

"This is not a rate hearing," Stephens said, of the upcoming hearing. "I have the feeling they'll come back in six months or so and ask for a rate increase. We're going to be ready for them."

To get ready, the steering committee Monday agreed that the Panhandle cities would "take certain actions," and would file these with the Railroad Commission at least 10 days before the hearing.

They would not disclose these actions before hand, Stephens said, to avoid alerting Pioneer.

The hearing in September, called for by Pioneer, is to ascertain the correctness of Pioneer gas purchase policies and to justify the 100 percent cost of gas pass through that Pioneer is now allowed to charge.

Stephens said they inspected 120 gas purchase contracts, some for throughout the past 20 years and many negotiated since the energy crisis of 1973.

"I have the feeling that we saw less than 10 percent of Pioneer's gas purchase contracts," Stephens said.

The cities will contest approval of Pioneer's purchasing policies based on only a percentage of contracts examined, Stephens said.

Bill McMorries, representing Perryton, Hereford, Brownfield, Spearman, Tulia, Canyon, Vernon, Bryan, Palestine, Quanah, Seymour, Borger, Childress, Electra, Burk Burnett, Floydada, and Littlefield, filed a statement Aug. 2 on cost of gas pass through.

"First I wish to speak to the issue as to whether automatic flow through of gas cost should be continued. It is my opinion that the use of automatic flow through or PGA clauses should be terminated except in special circumstances," McMorries said.

The PGA clause combined with the energy crisis and the Loc Lo-Vaca situation caused the price explosion of natural gas in the mid-70s, McMorries said.

He disapproved of the automatic pass through because:

—It removes all or at least much of the incentive to purchase gas at its lowest price.

—There is a conflict of interest between the utility and its customers and the utility and its subsidiaries that provide the gas.

—It must appear to the customer of natural gas, after watching helplessly the spiraling costs of this product that this company or no company is overly concerned for him. The higher the gas costs, the higher their profits seem to be.

—The court held in one case, "that a public utility must be regulated lest it overcharge the public." Even a part of the regulatory's duties should not be given up automatically. Cost of gas pass through are increased without any hearing before any regulatory body, McMorries said.

McMorries stated in nine pages, that before any kind of rate increase should be approved, a public hearing should be called at which the utility would have to justify the request.

A maximum of 65 percent of the cost of gas should be allowed and no automatic increases should be granted.

In addition to serving on the West Texas Utility Commission, Stephens has been named recently to serve on a public advisory committee of the Texas Municipal League.

They will meet for the first time Monday and are expected to take up a rate increase request by Bell Telephone.

Pesky laws hogtie commissioners court

The county commissioners are having trouble with the law again.

Already under investigation by the Randall County grand jury for a possible violation of the open meetings law, the court Monday heard they might be violating another law if they amended the present budget.

But if they don't amend the budget, they will have to violate a third law to pay any bills not already included in the budget.

The problem surfaced at the commissioner's meeting after Carroll Wilson, assistant to the court, and Bill Treay, county auditor, presented proposed amendments to the budget.

Wilson and Treay had earlier gone over the present county budget to track down expenditures that have actually been made to get an accurate reflection of the county's financial position.

They also included in the amendments expenses that were not originally budgeted for.

These include Wilson's salary, the assistant county auditor's salary, the investigator for the district attorney's office, and the increase in Treay's salary.

Treay explained that if the budget is not amended, none of those salaries could be paid.

But before the commissioners could act on the amendments, District Attorney Randall Sherrod told them that the budget can only be amended legally if the changes reflect an urgent public danger that could not have been reasonably foreseen when the original budget was approved.

If they went ahead with the amendments, Sherrod said, some citizens might argue that the changes were not urgent.

"There have been so many things since I've been on the court that are illegal," Commissioner Dee Griffin remarked.

Sherrod said that even though the budget may have been handled illegally in the past, "We've got to do it right now."

Earlier in the meeting, in another issue, former district judge Don Dean observed "Gentlemen, at some point we've got to start following the laws of the State of Texas."

Dean was attempting to negotiate a bond between the court and Canyon developer A.W. Lair.

In a dispute over road standards that has lasted over a year, Lair is attempting to get a plat approved for a development of estate-type homes just north of the city limits.

To get approval, Lair must improve his hard-surface road through the planned development. The dispute has been over the quality of the road and the steps needed to bring the road up to county standards.

Monday, engineer Bill McMorries listed five steps to be taken and Dean agreed to meet them all within two years and to post a performance bond.

The commissioners balked at a two year timetable and the amount of the proposed bond. They finally suggested that the bond equal the present cost of road construction and possibly the future costs as well. They mentioned $40,000.

"Fellows, you're not entitled to that much," Dean said. The law governing the situation sets the bond amount at $3 a linear foot, Dean said.

"You're not thinking about a

$3 a foot bond, are you?" Commissioner John Fulgenzi said.

"That's in the statute," Dean replied.

"This whole thing has not been done according to the statute so why start now with the bond," said Commissioner Jim Fletcher.

"It's what we can work out around this table."

As Dean answered that they needed to follow the law at some point, Sherrod was quickly summoned back into the courtroom.

"Mr. Sherrod," County Judge Woody Pond said. "What we're talking about, are we legal?"

"I wouldn't even venture to guess," Sherrod said.

The commissioners delayed any decision on approval of the plat or amendment of the budget for a special meeting Friday at 10 a.m.

Poor crops most likely

Prospects for dryland row crop was poor at mid-week, according to Paul Sammons, assistant county agent.

Sammons said moisture is badly needed. Even grassland is suffering and cattlemen are finding it necessary to put cattle on feed in the summer which is an unexpected expense.

Some farmers are expected to go ahead and put wheat into the ground hoping for rains to bring it up. Irrigation farmers will find it necessary to pre-plant irrigate, Sammons reported.

"We sure need rain," Sammons declared. Randall county farmers are apt to agree with him.

DC politics for local lass

By BEVERLY McCARLEY

When Shanna Webb went to Washington to work as congressional intern for Jack Hightower, little did she know that among her many contacts she would find the "kiss & tell" Elizabeth Rae, whom she was introduced to once.

More important than her personal acquaintances was the work and experience gained in a two month political excursion. Shanna worked in the United States Capitol city with and for Texas Congressman Hightower during the months of June and July.

Her life of secretarial duties for the congressman were well rounded with social activities.

"There are lots of things to do in D.C. Those people go all night — strong," according to the young politician.

The most exciting activity Shanna witnessed was the Bicentennial Fourth of July celebration. "It was the biggest fire works display in D. C., and there were more than a million people there," said Shanna.

Other social activities for the young intern included concerts by such artists as Peter Frampton. Dinner theaters and local night spots kept Shanna busy.

"You don't go anywhere by yourself in Washington D. C.," according to Miss Webb.

In the city, Shanna was well looked after by fellow intern David Hazelwood, of Amarillo. She said that there was a group of young people who shared their leisure time together.

On weekends, Shanna and other young people spent much time on the water at Ocean Beach in Virginia.

"You never really think about pollution until you see it," according to Shanna. "There is a lot of pollution in large cities like the capitol."

Shanna spent part of her stay in a dorm at George Washington University and then in an apartment with a friend.

Shanna said that she was introduced to several interesting persons in the political world. Jimmy Carter was one of the most notable dignitaries she met. She also became acquainted with several senators.

Shanna, along with all the Texas constituents in Washington was invited to visit the White House by President Ford. A scheduled party had to be cancelled because of the nearness of Ford's campaign.

Shanna will be attending West Texas State University this fall as a sophomore. She is transferring here from Texas Tech. Her goal is to finish her degree in special education and eventually work for Health, Education, and Welfare in the Education department.

Miss Webb is currently working as secretary for Congressman Hightower in Amarillo. Starting in September she will be campaign assistant for the Demo leader.

She will be helping to set up the Democratic headquarters at the Bank of the Southwest at the first of the month.

Shanna is the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb of 17 Dellwood Drive in Canyon.

Feds okay study bid

The application for a feasibility study for an industrial park in Canyon has been approved by the Economic Development Administration in Lubbock, Canyon Chamber of Commerce reported this week.

The application has been sent to the Austin office with a recommendation from the Lubbock office to approve funds for the project.

The Canyon C of C applied last spring for funds to study industrial development after city and county officials expressed disinterest in asking for a grant.

The Chamber and Industrial Foundation have recommended the Harland Bartholomew and Associates of Corpus Christi be employed to conduct the study.

Fire trap is cited

There is virtually no protection from fire for the courthouse and all of the irreparable records stored there, county commissioners were reminded Monday.

Only two fire extinguishers are located in the courthouse and these were last inspected in 1971, administrative assistant Carroll Wilson told the court.

Wilson suggested, and commissioners agreed, to ask for a fire inspection from fire marshal Jerry Lehnick.

A fire in the courthouse would ruin county records, Wilson and County clerk Leroy Hutton said. While some of the records are stored on microfilm, the indices are handwritten, Hutton said. Water would ruin the records as surely as fire, they said.

County Judge Woody Pond presents a plaque in appreciation for his long service to retiring farm agent John Brazzil. The honoree's wife, Estelle watches the awards ceremony. A picnic in Conner Park Saturday at 7 p.m. is planned in Brazzil's honor.

Road still a hassle

County commissioners and A.W. Lair Monday may have inched closer to resolving their dispute over a road built by Lair and rejected by the commissioners.

The road was hard-topped nearly a year ago, but the dispute between Lair and both the city and county government has held up further development of Lair's Canyon North project.

Because the road was constructed without prior city and county approval and was not inspected by the county asset out (See ROAD, Page 7)

The county commissioners Monday:

Told road supervisor Herb Hilliard to refuse maintenance on roads in developments that have not been approved for county maintenance.

Authorized Hilliard to accept three used pickup trucks for salvage at Ft. Bliss.

Agreed to consider further centralizing of county purchases with one agent.

Voted to continue county hospitalization insurance under the present policy and to study further changing coverage.

Delayed a decision on a request for more county funds from Kids, Inc.

Assigned Carroll Wilson to confer with Keith Horton on pollution from septic tanks and to make recommendations for county action.

Set a special meeting Friday at 10 a.m. to conclude the plat approval for Canyon North, discuss Kids, Inc., discuss the amendment to the budget, discuss funding the purchase of radios for the (See GLANCE, Page 7)

ROTC recruits to save itself

In hot water with the Army already, WTSU's military science department is looking for recruits this fall.

ROTC is sponsoring a cookout at the university tonight with displays, rappelling and a Cobra helicopter gunship, for entertainment.

Coffee and doughnuts will be offered in the ROTC building lounge during registration Friday and Saturday.

WT's military science program was put on probation by the Department of the Army last March, along with five other programs in this area, for not having enough level three students.

Last year, there were only 12 junior ROTC students enrolled. The minimum enrollment set by the Army for juniors is 20 students, LTC Charles Laakso, professor of military science said.

This year, counting students who took a condensed version of MS I and II courses, those who completed a six week basic camp at Ft. Knox and returning veterans, the faculty is hoping for about 24 juniors. Twenty juniors have completed enough paperwork for the department to be sure of their enrollment, LTC Laakso said.

Assuming the minimum student count is met, it is expected that WTSU will be removed from probation. Brig. Gen. Jerry Childress, commander of the Third Army ROTC Region at Ft. Riley, recommended last spring not to put WT on probation, LTC Laakso said.

Since the elimination of the draft, ROTC numbers have been dropping steadily. Last year, only 76 persons were enrolled in the WT program.

This year, LTC Laakso is guessing as many as 110 may enroll. Until registration tomorrow, he cannot be sure of numbers but already 43 freshmen have pre-registered.

New jobs, no payday

Recent county employees who hold newly-created positions could be by-passed on payday if the present budget is not amended.

But the law requires that amendments must be an urgent public necessity that could not have been reasonably foreseen when the original budget is approved.

And the law also prohibits any payments not included in the budget.

Carroll Wilson, newly hired to an unprecedented position, as administrative assistant, proposed several amendments to the present budget to reflect payments that had previously been unspecified and therefore illegal.

Besides salaries, the amendments included payment to the ambulance service, and Kids, Inc. funds.

But as soon as Wilson propos- (See PAY, Page 7)

Title 9 creates no problems

The passage of Title 9 has caused no drastic changes in the Canyon school system since its full enforcement, according to John Sommer, high school principal.

Sommer says that the recent abolishment of the student dress code was very much needed. "The students are more relaxed and do not feel like they have to hide from faculty members because of their attire."

Following a self evaluation by the Canyon School Board and interpretation of the law by the Health Education and Welfare, Sommer feels that Canyon is directly in compliance with the Title 9 specifications — except for co-educational physical education classes.

Due to the present gym and dressing room facilities, Sommer says that it is not possible to combine men's and women's athletic activities. "After the new gym and dressing areas are completed, we will be in strict accordance with Title 9," according to Sommer.

Sommer.

What seemingly should be the hardest hit area by the new anti-discrimination law is in vocational education. According to Dr. Ken Hart, vocational director at CHS, the title has not had much effect on the department.

Dr. Hart says that they have never discouraged students of one sex from enrolling in courses more geared to the opposite sex. Women are welcome into auto mechanics and building trades just as men are accepted in homemaking.

He says that few students venture into courses that have been basically set up for students of the other sex, but this is not because they are discouraged from doing so. "It is because of lack of interest in those particular courses," according to Hart.

According to Principal John Sommer, the only negative aspect of Title 9 is that "if a girl wants to wear a beard, she can't."

New counselor states goal

"I would like to make this the best high school counseling and guidance program there is," says Kenneth Ringo, new counselor for the Canyon High School.

Ringo comes to Canyon from Dimmitt where he was guidance counselor for seven years. He previously served in the Levelland school system for a semester.

The new faculty member is a 1954 graduate of West Texas State University. He played football for the buffalo squad and coached football for ten years prior to assuming his counseling career.

Hereceived his master's degree from Texas Tech in counseling and guidance.

Ringo moved to Canyon a year ago with his wife Ruth. His son Kenneth is a senior student at West Texas State University. He has two daughters residing in Dimmitt.

City, county, hospital district to study ambulance subsidies

If the city, county and hospital district pooled their money to match a grant for an ambulance, would it reduce the monthly subsidy to the ambulance service?

The three entities will explore that question when they meet Monday with representatives from Metropolitan Ambulance Service.

Metropolitan operates the ambulance service here after Canyon Ambulance Service went bankrupt last spring.

Before the firm went bankrupt, Canyon had applied through the emergency medical service program at Panhandle Regional Planning Commission for a grant to purchase an ambulance.

The grant, probably a 60-40 one with local governments paying the smaller share, might be approved if the three entities decide to go ahead, city manager Glen Metcalf said.

Questions they will explore tomorrow with ambulance managers will center around a reduction of the monthly $1,140.67 subsidy each or a guarantee that the subsidy won't be increased, Metcalf said.

Cost to each entity for a new ambulance will amount to about $2,500.

Kids, Inc. beginning here

Sign-ups for Kids, Inc. contact and flag football as well as cheerleading were taken last Saturday with a good number of Canyon youngsters now on the roster.

Terry Clark, round-up manager for Kids, Inc. in Canyon, reports that some teams are already practicing after school in preparation for games to begin in mid-September.

Clark also expressed special appreciation to County Judge Woody Pond for giving time and effort to the project and recognized monetary donations from local businessmen amounting to $330.

Businesses recognized for their contributions to Kids, Inc. were the Davis Agency, Cooper's Thriftway, Larry Hooper Agency, Schooler-Gordon Inc. of Canyon, Mike Morris Insurance, Canyon News, Willis E. Harrison D. D. S. Medical and Dental Clinic, Sternberg Lumber, Johnston Trustworthy Hardware, Village Drive Inn, Shell's Pharmacy, Musser Welding, West Texas State Bank and Irwin Greenhouse.

At the Kids, Inc. sign-ups on Saturday over 100 students were signed for contact football in the 4th through 6th grades with an additional 65 boys and girls signed up to play flag football.

Some 30 girls were also signing up to participate on the cheerleading squads.

In contact football 40 youths were signed up at the sixth grade level, 35 at the fifth grade level and 30 at the 4th grade level.

Flag football, which is for first through third grades, is expected to field five 9-man teams from the 65 students signing up. The league is open to both boys and girls and additional sign-ups will be taken through September 1 by contacting Frank Landram, 655-3127.

The cheerleading squad consists of 30 girls following the sign-up time last Saturday and is presently in need of an additional fourth grade mother to serve as a sponsor.

Sign-ups for either contact football or the cheerleading squad and volunteer adults may contact Clark at 655-2200 previous to September 1.

County commission covers long agenda

Decisions on the Canyon North plat, the ambulance contract, funding Kids, Inc. and amending the present county budget were put off until a special meeting Friday as county commissioners worked through a long agenda Monday.

As routine business, the court voted to require First National Bank to retain $1.1 million for county deposits, approved a plat for unit seven of Timbercreek, decided not to maintain development roads not dedicated to the public, approved three used pickups from Army salvage at Ft. Bliss, approved a draft of a letter to Panhandle Engineers and Contractors demanding repair under the warranty for the courthouse annex.

They investigated appointing one person to be purchasing agent and gave administrative assistant Carroll Wilson the go-ahead to draw up a clearcut policy for centralized purchasing.

They also considered changing the county hospitalization insurance but voted to retain the present policy.

Rates will go up Sept. 1 for hospitalization for employees and their dependents. Scheduled hikes include a 19 percent raise for the county's part and a 17 percent increase by employees for dependents.

Wilson investigated switching to a $100 deductible policy but found little savings in that plan, he told the court.

He also suggested the county could ask for bids, but commissioners turned that down because they had taken bids last year.

They put off again a decision to increase the fund or to fund at all, Kids, Inc.

The recreation program serves both Potter and Randall County youngsters. Randall County has been contributing $2,200 to Kids, Inc. while Potter County contributes $7,500. The director of Kids, Inc. asked recently for an increase in Randall County funding.

The request brought the legality of the present funding into question. Assistant District Attorney Rick Wilcox researched the issue and decided that the county could legally pay a private group if the court contracted with the group to provide county recreation services.

Wilson recommended not to fund Kids, Inc., saying it was "a keg of worms."

Every recreation group in the county would be asking Kids, Inc. for money and Kids, Inc. would be relaying the requests to the commissioners, Wilson warned.

The commissioners tabled the request.

Keith Horton addressed the court, warning about pollution of the aquifer by improper septic tanks. Commissioners directed Wilson to confer with Horton and make recommendations to the court.

The ambulance contract was put off until Friday so Metropolitan Ambulance Service managers can review the contract.

The commissioners agreed to a fire inspection by county fire marshal Jerry Lehnick and put off until Friday consideration of a proposed amendment to the budget.

Former district court judge Don Dean tried again to get a plat approved for A.W. Lair's estate-type development just outside the city limits.

Called Canyon North, the project has been stalled about a year while Lair seeks city and county approval of the plat. Approval hinges on the quality of the hard surface road.

Monday Dean agreed for Lair to meet immediately two specifications of the independent engineering evaluation and to perform the other requirements in two years when more traffic has used the road.

Commissioners balked on the two year timetable and disputed the amount of a bond to be required.

The commissioners and Dean agreed to meet again Friday at 10 a.m.

A meeting of the Canyon, Randall, Amarillo and Potter County (CRAP) governments was announced for Wednesday at noon. Items to be included by the commissioners on the agenda concerned radio purchase for the county fire department.

They delayed a request for two walkie-talkies for the fire department until they could investigate further.

Robert F. Green of Amarillo was appointed as the county representative on the Mental Health Mental Retardation board of trustees.

Judy Beth Monk was appointed assistant county auditor with an annual salary set at $8,400. She was appointed by district court judges Bryan Poff and George Dowlen and ratified by the county court.

Metropolitan presents fees

Maximum service charges for the Metropolitan Ambulance Service were informally approved Monday by the Canyon City Commission. Official signing of the contracts is expected to take place Friday.

The new services will be available to Canyon, Randall County, and the Canyon hospital district.

Proposed ambulance rates are as follows:

STANDARD SERVICE FEES:
(1) Base rate for service	$30.00
(2) Death call	15.00
(3) "Dry run"	20.00
SUPPLEMENTAL SERVICE FEES:
(1) Night surcharge (10 p.m. - 6 a.m.)	5.00
(2) Mileage on calls outside Amarillo and Canyon city limits (one-way mileage only)	1.00/mile
Emergency50/mile
Non-emergency	5.00
(3) Oxygen	5.00
(4) Special handling	5.00
(5) Special loading fee	5.00
(6) Stretcher time	10.00/hr.

The new contract will replace the month-to-month system of service thus far provided by Metropolitan Ambulance.

Happy artists place in show

Artists from Happy swept the watercolor category Saturday during the Happy Day's Celebration. Over 600 persons visited the Happy Artist's Studio's Art Show and Flea Market during the event.

Pat McCracken of Amarillo judged the art exhibits.

Edna Foster received $75 for a watercolor which was chosen to be first best of the show.

Ms. Foster also placed first in mixed media painting competition.

The watercolor division was won by Ollie Nichols, with Edna Foster taking second and Mary Womack third. All three ladies are from Happy.

Zelma Selvidge, of Happy, placed first in oils.

Honorable mention awards were given to three Happy residents including Ms. Foster, Helene McFarland, and Mary Moudy.

Ms. Moudy's painting, entitled "Rags, The Sympathetic Clown" was purchased by the First State Bank. Zelma Selvidge also received a purchase award.

Local resident reports theft

Stereo equipment valued at more than $1,000 was reported stolen in a burglary of a home here Sunday.

Jan Williams reported her apartment at 508 4th Street was broken into sometime Sunday night. The lock on the front door was broken.

A stereo valued at $400 and records worth $650 were taken in the break-in.

Police are investigating. Also this week, city police arrested one person and charged him with driving while intoxicated. Two incidents of vandalism of automobiles were also investigated.

Local teacher chosen judge

Mrs. Barbara West, homemaking instructor at Canyon High School, has been chosen as one of eight judges in the Outstanding Young Homemaker contest. The judging will take place in Plainview September 8.

Contestants have been chosen from Area one, including the entire Panhandle area.

Awards will also be presented to the Outstanding Homemakers Little Sister.

Mrs. West is new to the Canyon School System. She comes here from Andrews with her family.

Dorms near capacity

West Texas State University dorms are nearing capacity with a total of 2,014 reservations so far this semester. According to Housing Director Carolyn Hunt, dorms on the campus will house 2,109 students, including private rooms.

Saundra Meek, Associate Dean of Women said that approximately 30 women students are currently being housed in the men's section of Stafford Hall, temporarily. These coeds will be placed in women's dorms after all room cancellations are posted.

Last fall the former all male dorm, Stafford Hall was converted to house freshman women in the south wing. According to Miss Meek there has not been a substantial increase in freshman female student enrollment.

Miss Meek attributes the female overflow to lack of off-campus housing. Another cause is last semester's utility rate hike. According to the dean, students have found that dorm life is relatively more reasonable now.

According to Carolyn Hunt, reservations are still being accepted for dorm rooms in both men's and women's halls.

Miss Meek said that last semester there were between 40 and 60 female students who did not show up for their dorm rooms. Thus, the housing situation is expected to improve before Monday.

"We will find room for all coed applicants," according to Miss Meek. No reservation applications are being refused.

Weldon Trice, Assistant Dean

for Men says that there is still ample space in men's dorms. There are presently about 60 unfilled spaces in campus housing for males.

"By the time school starts, we will probably have between 80 and 100 vacancies," according to Trice. This will include rooms in Stafford Hall that coed students will vacate.

There is actual living space to accommodate 2,400 students on the WTSU campus. This figure includes available room for more than one student in private rooms.

Art, music profs added to university

West Texas State University's first full-time commercial art instructor and two music professors will join the faculty of the WTSU School of Fine Arts this fall.

Margie Jo Adkins, former instructor at Texas Christian University and national advertising designer for Radio Shack, will be an assistant instructor in commercial art.

Ms. Adkins is a candidate for a master's of fine arts degree in advertising design from North Texas State University. She has also held staff artist positions with Albert Evans and Associates, Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., and Jack T. Holmes and Associate.

Allen Dean Palmer, former instructor at Los Angeles Southwest College, will teach music history and literature at

West Texas State. Palmer received a certificate in trumpet from the Naval School of Music in Norfolk, Va., and was a teaching fellow at the University of California at Los Angeles before coming to Canyon.

Amarillo native Lynn Ronald Lemon will instruct classes in brass instruments and French horn. After earning his bachelor and master's degrees from Texas Tech University, Lemon became assistant professor of music at Emporia Kansas State College. He has also taught at Southeastern Louisiana College, Loyola University, Tulane University and the University of South Alabama.

Storage tank leaks

A leaking ammonia storage tank at Consumers Fuel Association cleared the residents from nearby trailers and homes Sunday afternoon.

According to the police report, one field tank had blown a pop-off valve. Residents were evacuated from the area along the Hereford Highway.

The incident occurred about 4 p.m. Sunday. Canyon police chief Al Stewart said ammonia leaks are not too uncommon.

Happy news

Barbecue feeds folks

By MARY NEAL HENRY
ABOUT 1500 WERE served during the barbecue at Happy Days. Two hundred of this number were "old-timers," the group that really get the most enjoyment out of Happy Days.
A plaque was presented Hollis Shipman and the Shipman family, in memory of Inez Shipman, to whom Happy Days was dedicated this year. Inez was one who gave advice and lent a helping hand to that first Happy Days when it was first revived. At that time, she owned and operated a cafe in Happy and she ordered supplies and lent utensils, etc. She donated much time and effort. Happy Jaycees dedicated this year's celebration to her memory and presented the Shipman family a plaque during the awards just after noon on Saturday.

The Women's Study Club of

Happy won first place in the parade floats for civic groups. Happy Cow-Belles won second and Happy Jaycee-Ettes won third with their Miss, Junior Miss and Little Miss Happy floats.
Harman Toles won first in the commercial division of the parade floats. The Big Texan won second with their huge steer.

First in Riding clubs was the Los Charros riding club with their fancy suits and tack. Randall County Riding Club won second and we appreciate their coming to Happy to ride.
Elzo Guest, 96 years young, was the oldest old-timer present. White Currie had lived in the area the longest, since 1890. Bill and Ruth Odum traveled the most miles to Happy Days. They traveled over 1800 miles to get here from Fort Bragg, Calif.

Terry Wright won the most colorful category of the beard contest. Vincent Venhaus won the unique title. Bill Caudle, one of the Amarillo gunfighters, won the plaque for the ugliest beard.
The Horseshoe Pitching was won by Hobie McManigal in the singles division with Larry Simons winning second. The doubles was won by Bob Hargrave and Robert Lee. Raphe and Gene Shipman won second.
Happy's Heavy Heavers won the tug-of-war game. This team is Gene Shipman, Terry Wright, Don Lee, Jim Schrib, Dean Bryan, Lloyd Rahlfis, Mark Hargrave and Jim Hand.

The "87" cafe and the Amarillo Gunfighters also had teams. John B. Gill of the Fire Fox Corporation of Houston demonstrated the "Jaws of Life." Happy Volunteer Firemen sponsored the demonstration and hope to purchase one of these life saving tools for our area. The electronic tool weighed approximately 65 pounds and cost $5,000. It was run by a portable motor which set on the ground. It would open car doors, raise steering columns off anyone who may be trapped in a vehicle, open the doors in a matter of seconds, even cut the whole top off a car in such few minutes (maybe seconds). People stood amazed. Happy Volunteer Firemen are taking donations to buy this new equipment for our area.

John Butler won the red, white and blue quilt raffled by the senior citizens. Joyce Lane won the quilt made by the Sunnyhill Home Demonstration Club. Sharon McCarley won the $100 gift certificate at the new J Bar C Western Store in Happy that Happy Jaycee-Ettes sold chances on.
HAPPY ARTISTS CLUB had a busy day with their Art Show and Flea Market. Many type booths were featured during the day.
First State Bank Purchase Award went to Mary Moudy for "The Clown." The school award went to Zelma Selvidge for "After the Storm."

Best of show and $75 went to Edna Foster. Bob Hargrave won second and $50 with his "He Killed My Double Six." Gene Reagor won third and $25 with "Follow Me."
In the oil division, Zelma Selvidge won first with "Breakfast Delight," Ellen McCoy of Amarillo won second with "Neighboring," and Katherine Stephens of Tulsa won third with "The Fiddler and His Day."
In water colors, Ollie Nichols won first with "The Winter Tree," Edna Foster won second and Mary Womack won third with "Green Shadows." Gaytha Fellers won honorable mention with "Forest Fireworks."

in the county road policy, both the city and county commissioners have refused to approve the plan for the development.

Several months ago, city commissioners gave conditional approval to the plat, provided the county okays the road.

ed the amendments to the commissioners court Monday, District Attorney Randall Sherrod read another statute that restricted amending the budget to urgent necessity.

Sherrod pointed out that some citizens may not consider providing salaries for new positions as a public necessity. If he received complaints, Sherrod said he would be forced to check it out and possibly refer it to the grand jury.

Wilson rejoined that payment was certainly a private necessity.

"There's no doubt in my mind that if the budget is not amended, that Bill Tiley, (county auditor) can't pay me," Wilson told the court.

"And if we don't amend the budget now, we're just as illegal under other acts," he went on. Commissioners, dismayed at meeting head-on legal requirements, were told by Sherrod that he didn't think it would be any harder to comply with the law.

"It's just a different way in how it's been done," he said. "It isn't going to be any harder."

The commissioners postponed any further action for a special meeting Friday.

Later, County Judge Woody Pond said Wilson would be paid.

"We have a special meeting Friday, Aug. 27 at 10 a.m. and I expect you'll see then what we're going to do."

Besides Wilson's, endangered salaries include the D.A.'s investigator, and the new assistant auditor.

part of their authority for land in their extra-territorial jurisdiction.

Monday, Lair's attorney, former district court judge Don Dean, made his second trip to commissioner's court, with Lair's engineer, Bill Thompson, and the county's engineer, Bill McMorries.

McMorries listed five steps to be taken to bring the road up to county standards:

—Complete drainage ditches and structures according to the plan.

—Proof-roll existing paving with a gross load of a minimum of 25 tons to show unstable or soft areas, and redo paving in those areas.

—Remove weeds and patch paving.

—Correct crown in paving as much as practical.

—Lay two courses of full strength asphalt to bring the total asphalt thickness to a minimum of four inches.

Dean said Lair would comply immediately with the drainage requirements and weed control and within two years, would finish the other requirements.

During the two years, Dean said, the area would be developed and traffic would help compact the road.

Commissioners didn't agree with the timetable. Paul Lindsey said he would be willing to extend the completion time until next year only because it was so late in the road building season. Cut-off date for laying roads is October.

"We want the plat approved," Dean said. "The man under reasonable conditions deserves to have his plat approved."

"We did not create the problems and now we're trying to accommodate him," Commissioner John Fulgenzi said. "But every time we turn around, we have to have a new accommodation."

"We'll put up a bond and you're under no hazard of maintenance during the two year test period after the road is finished," Dean said.

The bond was also haggled over. Dean pointed out that the statute established a performance bond at $3 a linear foot.

The commissioners wanted a much larger bond. Fulgenzi said he thought the bond should not only meet present costs of road construction but should anticipate future costs.

Somewhere around $40,000 was agreeable with the commissioners for the approximate mile of road.

The only decision agreed upon by Dean and the commissioners was to meet again Friday at 10 a.m. Commissioners expressed hope that the plat could be approved at that time.

Informational programs begun for Sr. Citizens

Canyon Senior Citizens this week began a series of programs which will continue into the fall to enlighten members on several subjects.

Adult basic education studies beginning soon

Basic education courses for adults who did not receive their high school diplomas will be offered under the sponsorship of the Canyon Independent School District this fall.

The basic education course is a refresher study on English, Math, Science, History, and Literature and is free to all participants. Thelma Ruth Childs, 655-9157, is instructor for the basic education classes which culminate when students have successfully passed the G.E.D. high school equivalency testing.

Local school district residents must have been out of school for a period of one year and be a minimum age of 18 in order to take the local basic education

Becky Hall, County Extension Agent.

Senior Citizens are presently having a "discussion time" on Tuesdays between 10 and 11 a.m. with Joe Frank as chairman. The discussions center on problems encountered by senior citizens at retirement age and is a sounding board session.

Upcoming programs and projects for senior citizens will be a two month course (consisting of nine lessons) to be taught in oil painting. The course instructor, Lillie Hundley, will begin the course September 7 with class time set between 9:30 and 12 noon for the duration.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon for Mrs. J. J. (Myrtle Lock) Walker, former Canyon resident, who died Saturday in the Hall County Hospital at Memphis.

Born in Hays County, Texas, Mrs. Walker and her husband, Jesse James Walker, were wed June 3, 1915 at Memphis. They operated a drugstore in Memphis previous to moving to Canyon in 1923 where they resided at 518 19th Street.

The Walkers operated the drug store, now known as Byrd Pharmacy, for 40 years until Mr. Walker retired in 1959. He died in 1967 and Mrs. Walker remained here until 1971 when she moved to Memphis. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church and Canyon City Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday at the First United Methodist Church of Canyon with Rev. Hubert Thomson, retired Methodist minister, officiating. Local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors and interment was conducted at Dreamland Cemetery.

Serving as pallbearers were Wilford Taylor, Jr., Ples Harper, A. L. Crossland, Willard Middleton, W. W. Sternberg and Robert Ezzel.

Survivors include nieces: Mrs. H. R. (Joann) Crawford of Memphis, Mrs. Velma Kiene of Amarillo, Mrs. Geraldine Horton of Dalhart and Mrs. William J. Clifford of Sheridan, Wyoming; and nephews, H. B. (Benny) Estes of Houston and Oscar Lock of Lawton, Oklahoma.

Sharon Lowe, new office assistant with Canyon Senior Citizens Association, goes over new programs expected to be founded here soon. Participating in the discussion is Marie Bonifield, RSVP project director for the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation.

RSVP wants volunteers

Marie Bonifield is the new project director for the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) which serves a four county area including Potter, Randall, Carson and Armstrong Counties of the Texas Panhandle.

She stressed the fact that a lot of "retirees are moving to the Texas Panhandle" and need to have a use for their talents.

The RSVP program encourages volunteer services in the community by the retired and the project also documents the volunteer hours they provide to their communities.

Established under a federal grant, the RSVP program is eligible for continued funds on a matching basis with participating counties required to raise cash and/or document voluntary service.

"This documentation of volunteer services, she noted, does not include the volunteer hours spent by the RSVP participants themselves — but is a count of other volunteer hours given to the program."

As RSVP project director, Mrs. Bonifield noted that local Senior Citizens spent 6,864 volunteer hours in remodeling the building there, spend many hours as volunteer drivers for the Meals on Wheels program, serve as museum volunteers with the hospital auxiliary and provide transportation to those in need.

For further information about the program contact Mrs. Bonifield at the local Senior Citizens Building, 655-3331, or the RSVP office at 373-8389.

Miss Canyon '76 represents city

Miss Canyon '76 placed as fourth runnerup for the title of Miss Wheatheart of the Nation at a beauty pageant held Saturday night in Perryton.

The petite lass was also selected as 'Miss Congeniality' at the beauty pageant where she was the youngest participant. She was the only high schoolage lass placing in the top five of the contest.

Miss Cindy Brooks, a junior student at Canyon High School this fall, was selected to serve as Miss Canyon '76 in a local beauty pageant last spring.

She is the daughter of Sandra and Don McRoberts of 1207 Brookhaven and represents the city in various capacities throughout the years. She was recently selected as the second runnerup at Pampa in the Miss Top of Texas Pageant. Her activities are co-sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and Canyon Study Club.

Two re-elected

with Greg Carlisle. J. T. Henry split first in the bull riding and won second in the bareback riding. Eddie Joe Pearson won fifth in calf roping. Happy won the team trophy. Congratulations!

KEN HENRY RECENTLY won the bull riding at the PRCA rodeo in Davenport, Iowa and split fourth and fifth in Sidney.

STEPHANIE AND ANDREA Vise of Canyon spent a week recently in Happy with their grandparents, the Forest Vises. Ruby picked up Elana at the end of the visit and took all three girls to the circus and to see the new show, UFO, at the Discovery Center.

CONGRATULATIONS TO BILL Tiley, recently named County Auditor of Randall County. Bill is a native of Happy.

Bill and his wife, Georgine and their two sons, have just finished remodeling their house in Canyon by adding a second story.

Georgine, a native of Gainesville, is a Past Grand Worthy Advisor of the Grand Assembly of Texas, Order of the Rainbow for Girls and is active in the Canyon City Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

CONGRATULATIONS TO BOB Robinson, new County Agent of Randall County beginning Sept. 1. Bob, too, is a native of Happy. He and his wife Sharon, have been living in Amarillo where Bob served as an assistant agent.

Our best regards to John Brazzil. John has been a favorite of ours for many years. In his calm, confident manner, he accomplished his goals and set many youngsters on the right path.

John is one who really believes that you can do a lot of good in this world if you don't care who gets the credit. Well, I believe in giving credit where credit is due. Thank you, John, for all those years of service to your community.

Happy's newsy notes

JESSIE LANE IS back in the Pavilion after being transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital for tests. Jessie suffered a very slight stroke and is improving very well.

Viola Buchanan remains seriously ill.

George Uselding remains on the critical list in Amarillo.

CORRIN, SHAY AND JOE Freeman, children of Norman and Joy Freeman, have Indian corn for sale at a quarter an ear.

The Freemans live one and a half miles south and then one and a half miles east of Happy (all on pavement). They are listed in the Gurley telephone listings.

OUR FRIEND, BARBARA Northern, who attends high school in Amarillo, had her sore mare stolen on Wednesday night or very early Thursday morning, Aug. 19 from the Will Rogers Range Riders stalls.

The mare is a registered nine-year-old and is named Miss La Rey. She stands 15.2 hands high and weighs approximately 1100 pounds. The only white on her is on her face. She has a star, a stripe and a snip. She has a vertical scar about five inches long on her left hip that looks rather like the number "1" as she travels away from you. Miss La Rey also has a scar just above the right back hoof (on the pastern) and one on the inside of the left front ankle. Right now she has a scab on the right side which is a scratch but resembles a saddle sore.

This mare gets nervous when you ride her into the box. She also has a habit of flopping her bottom lip when she is nervous or excited. This trait alone will make her easily identified. So watch for her. If you think you see her, call the authorities or notify Barbara Northern at 806-355-0785.

Although Barbara's mare was the only horse taken at the time, a red and white, Milley, two horse trailer with black or dark grey glass in the front was stolen from the Range Riders area also. The two might possibly be together.

ANGELIQUE HENRY

AND Kaye Stubblefield went to Wonderland Park recently as guests of the park. Because of Angelique's leg injury, Mrs. Roads treated her and a friend to a free evening in the park and did they have fun!

I went through the "Fantastic Journey" with them and that ride is well named. Someone's imagination has been working overtime. I'd recommend that "journey" to all you out there — except those with very high blood pressure. It was a fun evening!

HAVE A GOOD DAY!

WHAT KIND OF A DISCOUNT?

Lately, the most used word of many advertisers seems to be "Discount." They give the impression that these firms are in business to sell things below their cost. Suddenly they have become philanthropists.

Of course, you know such selling is not continuously possible. Either the price on "blind" articles of their own or unknown makes is higher, or service is discounted to a minimum. We continue our policy of dependability, fair prices and every possible service to please you.

Activities begin here

BY JO FULKERSON
ANOTHER WEEK, ANOTHER bunch of happenings here at the park.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Rippetoe are new and proud parents of a baby born last Thursday. Both are doing fine now, and Linda and Ron have named the new boy Bedford Jay.

My apologies if the name has been misspelled.

PAT AND TEX Reed report they were going to the Wheatheart Celebration in Pampa, Texas the weekend of the 21st. They have planned for so many times to go to this job obligations prevented it in the past. They particularly wanted to see the tractor pull, but looked forward to the 5:30 a.m. breakfast, the parade and a noon barbecue.

They were to visit her sister and brother-in-law, Tommy L. Bradley, and nephews, Brian and Brent, while there.

GARY AND ANN Hudleston were recent visitors at the park, visiting Aunt Ruby and new Uncle George.

Gary and family are from El Reno, Oklahoma, and were on their way to Albuquerque for a job interview with the Methodist Church there. Gary is now a director of music, choir and youth director. I know Ruby was glad to see them because she speaks very lovingly of them, and often.

M. J. AND LEE Lamkin had a weekend of visiting planned. First to Pampa to a Masonic Lodge Banquet and celebration; then on to McClellan to the Golden Spread Camp-out. A weekend of fellowship and good clean outdoor fun seemed inevitable for them.

YOUNG BRENT SHIPLEY described his visit to the Storybook Zoo last weekend to me one day. He visited Snow White's cottage to feed the deer, Billy Goat Gruff to feed the baby goats, and he saw the elephants, sheep and chickens.

Mother Sharon said he had a real good time and lots of giggles, but baby Brandi was just too small to wonder what was going on.

DEBBIE BROOKS SPENT the weekend in Muleshoe (in the garden, looks like) and brought home fun thoughts of the family and loads of fresh vegetables to put up this week. Lots of several kinds of squash, beans, and blackeyed peas and all were choice vegetables.

I WAS CLEANING out my sewing machine drawer the other day and came across a clipping yellow with age (don't ask me how often I clean this drawer out or why a clipping was tucked among the pins, needles and bits of lace and buttons), which I would like to repeat for you. It is called "God Sends the Thread", written by Alvena Hallett.

"The spider starts to spin its web without a thread in sight... But as it works, God sends the thread, to weave the dream so light."

Be not afraid, to start to weave. That dream you would achieve... trust in God, just go ahead... He knows your need. He'll send the thread."

Isn't that true.

NEWCOMERS AT SIESTA include "Jack" and Mary Frost at 150 Siesta Lane; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Curry and family at 236 Loma Linda; Jan Henson, 247 La Fiesta; Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Potts and baby daughter, 223 La Fiesta; Mrs. Glenda Strey and her family at 230 La Fiesta; Jon Avent, 158 Siesta Lane.

Special welcome to Glen and Rachael Hosler, who now live at 126 Siesta Lane. The Hoslers moved from the Park several months ago, to our regret, and we are very pleased to have them return. Welcome newcomers.

THESE 60 DEGREE mornings are just wonderful, aren't they. Getting the first whiff of the morning breeze is like making the last payment on a car note — just makes you feel so good.

Call me with your news, and thanks in advance. 355-0601.

Ice cream fellowship planned for community

John Brazzil, Randall County's Extension Agent for Agriculture since 1948, will be honored Saturday evening, August 28, at a retirement party to be held for the community at Conner Park.

Brazzil will be retiring to private interests on August 31 and will be replaced on the County's Extension Staff by Bob Robinson, who has been serving with the Potter County Extension Service.

The ice cream supper feting Brazzil's retirement is being co-hosted by Forrest Gruner, R. B. Gist, Jr., Lee Moore, Don Dolle, Mr. and Mrs. Jones Hales, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turpin, and Mrs. Allen Winters.

WHEN DR. ROLAND Johnson and his wife, Wilma, were celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary by dining with friends at a seafood restaurant, Dr. Johnson found a small pearl in one of the oysters. The group remarked on the pearl and a waitress said she didn't think anyone else had ever found a pearl there.

Later, after the Johnsons returned home, they looked up their anniversary on a gift chart and discovered that the 30th anniversary is designated by a pearl.

IT HAS BEEN a summer of separate vacations for the Telfair family. First, due to some rash parental promises, Jackie Telfair and her father, Dan, went to New York for sightseeing, shopping and theater-going.

The next week, to make up for the missed New York trip, Michele Telfair and a friend, Kim Langford, went to Six Flags Over Texas. They were taxi'd there by Michele's mother, Laurie.

Last weekend, Laurie left Saturday evening for Salina, Kans., where she had a disastrous few minutes in the dog show ring and a terrific time visiting friends down for the show from Omaha and St. Louis. She returned to Canyon Sunday night.

A SMALL, PROBABLY ten-week-old, black, female puppy followed the News crew back from coffee break at the drugstore Tuesday. She was turned over to the animal warden to take to the pound at Dr. Markham's clinic for fear she would get run over by Square traffic. She was a fat puppy and is probably owned by someone nearby. If you've lost this pup, please get her at Dr. Markham's.

Quick column

By FARRIS ANN MORRISON

Another quickie column: SATURDAY THROUGH WEDNESDAY I will be in Ft. Worth with my almost sister, Linda McCasland. By the time you read this, I will already be back. Confusing, yes.

HAVE YOU VISITED school yet? All of the rooms look so lovely and inviting. Portia Tillinghast says at the end of every year, she can't let go, then each new class becomes her favorite. I don't believe there is a single teacher at Gene Howe who doesn't truly love children. Go up and get acquainted!

THE COMMUNITY EDUCATION program has been set up. Here are the classes which will be offered at Gene Howe: beginning Monday,

September 13, RUG MAKING — four weeks — 7-9 p.m. in the teacher's lounge — $5.00. WESTERN DANCING for Junior High and High School — six weeks — 7-9 p.m. in the cafeteria — $8.00. ADULT EDUCATION (GED) — 7-10 p.m. in the library — no fees. CROCHET begins Monday, October 11, for six weeks — 7-9 p.m. in the teacher's lounge — $8.00. Tuesdays will feature BASIC GENEALOGY — four weeks — 7-9 p.m. in the teacher's lounge — $5.00. WOMEN'S EXERCISE (a new and interesting technique) — eight weeks — 7-8:30 p.m. in the cafeteria — $8.00.

Both Tuesday classes will begin September 14. The forms are available at the school. Velta Ford, 353-4555, can handle pre-registration for classes. Class planning is easier if you can pre-register.

There will be a first-aid class given on one Saturday (place and time to be announced). The class is limited to twelve. If interested, please call the Community Education Office, 655-2168. Remember, this is a one day class.

CLARENCE AND VESTA Winters, grandparents of Ricky

and Mike Winters, returned recently from the Gindeasbeager family reunion at Salt Plains Lake, Oklahoma. The thirty-two members got in a lot of visiting, some fishing, boating, swimming, and in general had a lovely time.

THOUGHTS AT RANDOM

Anita Harp's and Alicia Niemeier's smile, Portia Tillinghast's and Nancy Roth's eyes, Pam Layman's hair, Jerry Langen's serene face and Marion Marra's kitten face, Ernestine Harp's new figure, Mr. Lawless' beautiful wardrobe, Margie Phillips' enthusiasm, Sarah Edwards' efficiency. There's lots more!

ONE ADVANTAGE to getting up at 7 a.m. (and there really is one) is the morning itself. This summer, I generally got up about 8 unless CAPTAIN KANGAROO was really outstanding and I could sleep til 9:00.

But now I've re-discovered "early" and I like it! It's cool, smells wonderful, and I can hear our quail calling.

The wind generally isn't blowing so it's a really great way to start the day. Have seven great days this week!
